

Production team members,

We are excited to announce that we are next in line for the COVID-19 vaccine. You have continued to do heroic work in ensuring our brands and food products have been available during this pandemic. As a designated essential worker, you now have early access to the COVID-19 vaccine. The first phase of vaccine distribution, essential health care workers and residents of long-term care facilities, is nearing completion. Millions of doses of the vaccine have already been given safely and we have been in communication with state and local health officials about the next phase.

As part of phase 1B, you are part of a group that includes other food and agriculture workers, first responders like police and firefighters, people who have underlying health conditions and other people who are in essential roles.

We know that the vast majority of our team members are eager to get the vaccine so that we can return to some level of normalcy and protect our families and friends, and it's important that we know the exact number of vaccines we need. As a reminder, even if you have had COVID-19, you still need to get the vaccine. Vaccines are free and will not cost our team members anything to receive them.

In order to help us help our team members get the vaccine when it is available to us, we ask that each of our team members return the attached vaccine information form to us. This form is simple to fill out and will allow us to ensure we have enough vaccines for anyone who wants one. This form is confidential and will only be used to get an accurate count for vaccine doses.

Once you receive the vaccine, you will receive an official immunization card that certifies that you received the vaccine. This card may be required by certain organizations in the future, so please make sure you keep your card in a safe place.

If you have questions or need more information on the COVID-19 vaccine, reach out to your human resources representative or health care provider.

Thank you for KEEPING COVID OUT! and getting vaccinated!
